DESCRIPTION:

The Z-95t Headhunter was a variant of the Z-95 Headhunter designed by Adar Tallon. Unlike the standard headhunter, it was equipped with a class 3 hyperdrive.

A unit of Z-95t Headhunters was operationally assigned to provide close air support to General Crix Madine's commandos. At least one of the ships was also equipped with an advanced sensor suite to monitor Imperial activity during commando actions.
