

Races D6 / Esoomian

ESOOMIANS

The Esoomians were hulking humanoids indigenous to Esooma who bore a strong resemblance to the Zexx. They reached 3 meters in height and were immensely strong, but tended to be simpleminded and to speak in a garbled manner. They were regarded as among the best hired muscle in the galaxy.

During the Galactic Civil War, their homeworld was quarantined by the Galactic Empire; after the Battle of Endor, however, the quarantine was lifted, and Esoomians began seeking work throughout the galaxy. The bounty hunter Tantor was an Esoomian, as well as the shockboxer Tontruk.

Attribute Dice: 12D/18D

DEXTERITY 1D+1/3D

KNOWLEDGE 1D+2/2D+2

MECHANICAL 1D/2D+2

PERCEPTION 2D/4D

STRENGTH 6D/7D

TECHNICAL 1D/2D+2

SPECIAL ABILITIES:

-Strength: Esoomians are known for their sheer bulk and size, raw strength, and not much else. They're bigger than a Wookiee, as strong as a Rancor, but have enough intelligence to be reasoned with, though some have been known for their destructive rampages.

-Large Size: The one drawback to Esoomians is their bulk. Aside from most galactic accommodations being built for smaller species (closer to Humans, Wookies or other species of similar or smaller height), they also stick out in a fight, are easier to hit (+2D to hit), and good cover/concealment is hard to come by (-2D protection). This usually isn't a problem due to their great strength, but can still sometimes pose a problem out of combat situations. Also, many weapons, armor and equipment must be custom made for Esoomians, costing no less than double, triple or more their base price.

STORY FACTORS:

-Imperial Quarantine: During the time of the Galactic Empire, the planet Esooma was put under Imperial quarantine, and Essomians became a rare site in the galaxy. Their physical strength and intelligence made them something the Empire needed to control. Since the fall of the Empire, Esoomians are seen more frequently off-world, and it wouldn't be a big surprise if any of them hold a grudge against the Imperials for such treatment.

-Reputation: Esoomians are well known for being brutal when angered or agitated. Though this isn't true of all Esoomians, their culture lacks the refinement to control their attitudes, making them somewhat less honorable than Wookies or Yuzzem, and have much in common with Gamoreans.

-Enslaved: While the Esoomians were not as widely used as slave labor like Wookies and other nonhuman species, the Empire probably made an attempt to do so before considering Esoomians too dangerous, hence the quarantine. They probably hold a grudge against that, too.

-Grudge: The other thing Esoomians are known for is holding a grudge against anyone or anything that makes them angry. If an Esoomian can't get even (or more than even) by using brute force, then they start showing how smart they can be....by planning revenge until they get the chance to smash their enemy.

-Esoomian Smash: Esoomians who look for work away from their homeworld of Esooma most often do so in jobs that make use of their formidable strength. This includes positions as bouncers, bodyguards, bounty hunters, guardsmen, soldiers, shock-troopers, and even various hard labor jobs in factories and construction.

Move: 9/11

Size: 3 meters tall (average)

Homeworld: Esooma

Skin color: Blue, grey and cream tints and mixes

Hair color: N/A

Eye color: Black

Famous Members: Tantor; Tirsan; Tontruk

Biology and Appearance: This hulking alien species is native to the planet Esooma. The average Esoomian stands no less than three meters tall, and has long, well-muscled arms and legs. They are equally adept at moving on two limbs or four. Their small, pointed skulls are dominated by two black, almond-shaped eyes, and their mouths have two thick tentacles at each corner. The average Esoomian is also marginally intelligent, and their speech is often garbled and unintelligible.