SPECIAL ABILITIES

Aquatic: Gungans are as at home in water as they are in air, capable of holding their breaths for extended periods while swimming, allowing them to remain submerged between breaths for many minutes. Although this does serve them some advantage in a vacuum, they have no resistance to the other deleterious effects that this environment has on their bodies.

Cartilaginous Body Structure: With very few bones, and most of their body supports made from flexible cartilage, Gungans are resistant to blunt trauma, resisting non-piercing physical damage with a bonus 2D. This offers no protection against projectile weapons, energy weapons or stabbing/slashing weapons such as knives or swords. However it does provide them with impressive resistance to concussion waves such as blast waves from grenades.

Description: Peppi Bow was a female Gungan shaak herder who lived on Naboo during the Clone Wars. After several of her lifestock had been poisoned after drinking from a river outside Naboo's capital Theed, Peppi learned from Senator Padmé Amidala and Representative Jar Jar Binks that her animals had been the victim of a Separatist biological weapon that had contaminated the river. Bow led the two politicians to the source of the poisoning, which came from the Eastern swamps. After Amidala and Binks were captured by the Separatist scientist Nuvo Vindi, Bow helped the Jedi Padawan Ahsoka Tano to locate the two missing politicians. Bow and Tano discovered the existence of a secret facility beneath the swamps, which was responsible for developing the Blue Shadow Virus. While Tano and clone troopers assaulted Dr Vindi's laboratory, Peppi waited in the swamps to prevent any Separatist forces from escaping. She played an important role in intercepting and tackling Vindi, who was subsequently arrested by Republic forces.
