Characteristics

They were tall and thin humanoids with grayish-blue skin and three-fingered hands. They were bald and had long skull-like faces with small black eyes.

History

The Zanibar religion demanded frequent sacrifice of sentients. It was believed that the rituals involved a feast of their enemies' bodies to give their life forces as a sacrifice to their gods.

Some Zanibar warriors became bounty hunters or mercenaries, accepting only sentients as payment that they could bring back to Xo and sacrifice.
