Description: Lord Izuma was an Umbaran male leader of raiders on the planet Keelia. After the Confederacy of Independent Systems left Keelia, they also abandoned several B1-series battle droids, which were salvaged by Izuma and his associates. They then reprogrammed the battle droids to do their bidding.

At one point, Izuma threatened Meevai Village; though the raiders wanted to take its chief as collateral, the chief's granddaughter, Haru offered to take his place. At the celebration for the marriage between Haru and Asu, Valco revealed what was to come for Haru, attempting to lead F into stepping in and saving the village. Though F was aware of what Valco was trying to do and was hesitant, she eventually changed her mind, intervening when the raiders, led by Lord Izuma, arrived to take Haru. As F revealed herself as a Jedi to the raiders, Valco fired upon the battle droids using a sniper rifle. Valco then threw his helmet, containing explosives, to the ground below, destroying the Izuma's starship and deactivating the remaining droids. F then defeated Izuma, saving Haru and the village.
