Description: The Starspeeder 1000, Star Tours Speeder, or StarSpeeder, was a space-capable commuter ship used by the Star Tours travel agency. Measuring 9.36 meters in length, it was boxy with a downwardly angled front side, and featured at least five doors on starboard side. It had four engines that emanated a blue glow.

In the year 34 ABY, a Star Tours Speeder was left parked at Niima Outpost, on the desert planet

Jakku on the day the scavenger Rey fled the First Order. The AC-series pilot droid AC-38 once piloted one such starship. In 35 ABY, after the Sith Eternal revealed itself to the galaxy, at least one Star Tours Speeder joined the fleet assembled in response to General Lando Calrissian's call to action and then partook in the Battle of Exegol.
