Description: Snur was a male human member of the Maya Pei Brigade during the Imperial Era. They were part of a group that were stranded on the moon Yavin 4 in 4 BBY following an attack on the brigade.

Biography

By 4 BBY, Snur had joined the Maya Pei Brigade to fight against the Galactic Empire. In 4 BBY, the brigade was attacked and Snur was apart of a group of at least sixteen members of the brigade that escaped aboard a starship that landed on Yavin 4. However one member of the group subsequently departed in the ship leaving Snur and the rest of the group stranded on the moon. The group later encountered and killed an individual named Porko that they found near a clearing with a damaged Breon HOY-39.

Two days after being stranded on the moon, Porko's companion, a man named Cassian Andor, landed near the HOY-39 in a stolen TIE Avenger. As Andor approached the HOY-39 calling out for Porko the brigade members revealed their presence and took Andor prisoner. Snur watched Andor as two members of the group, Gerdis and Bardi, took turns trying to interrogate Andor. The interrogation was interrupted when Rika, a member of the group, found the Imperial pilot helmet in the TIE and proclaimed that Andor was an Imperial test pilot. Later on Snur waited outside the TIE while Rika tried to learn to fly the TIE. However after realizing it was a lot more complicated to fly the group discussed the situation with Bardi suggesting that they could threaten to kill Andor. The meeting was interrupted when Andor learned the group was with the Maya Pei Brigade from his guard, Crab, with Andor trying but failing to convince the group to trust him. Later on Snur along with Nazy and Neek were tasked with guarding Andor while Rika once again tried to learn to pilot the TIE. When Andor began a conversation with Snur about gathering food and water from the jungle, Nazy interrupted telling Snur not to talk to Andor, to which Snur responded that they don't take orders from Bardi. After Rika presses a button in the TIE its laser cannons began to fire into the jungle causing the Snur and their fellow guards to dive for cover.

That night, an argument between the group erupted when discussing who should be in charge, ultimately coming to a head when Crab shot Rika with his blaster and with Rowd responding by shooting Crab. The brigade members exchange fire while splitting into two factions; with Snur siding with Gerdis, Snee, Bayso, Plug and Flek and regrouping with at the HOY-39 with Andor while the other group retreats to the TIE. Later that night, Snur stayed with the group in the crashed HOY-39 while Snee crawled through the rain looking for Crab. When she found a dismembered portion of Crab's leg she rain back to the group and informed the group. The following morning the group went through their supplies noting that they had fourteen snak-pods and nine meal bars but two of them were moldy. Snur stated if they get hungry enough they would eat the moldy ones. The group later sent Plug to sneak over and find out what the other group was doing at the TIE. While waiting for Plug to return, Snur ate their whole meal bar. He returned to the group to inform them that they were trying to rotate the TIE so so that its weapons would point towards Snur's group. Figuring out they could turn the TIE towards them, the group quickly opened fire at the TIE with their blasters thus forcing the TIE group to suspend their effort.

That night Gerdis decided to issue a challenge to Bardi to settle the dispute. Snur joined four other members their group to meet with five members of the other group. When the two groups meet in the middle they all dropped their weapons in unison. Snur watched as the two leaders than began a game of Five Hands with Roski rules to decide leadership. However Andor took the distraction of the game as an opportunity to escape his imprisonment and make it to the TIE. However before Andor could get TIE, a Yavinian doodar came out of the jungle and scooped Bardi and Gerdis in it's mouth. The rest of the group, including Snur scrambled for their guns and began to shoot wildly into the jungle. When the group realized that Andor had made it to the TIE and was taking off they began shooting at it but were unable to stop the TIE from leaving.

Personality and traits

Snur had dark skin, brown eyes and black hair.
